USE YOUR...
Lined Whiteboard

Every player has a whiteboard and a different coloured pen.
They'll be working together to write a collaborative story – but in silence!

With or without a timer, players must write a sentence on their board and then pass it along to the player on their right. The next player must then add another sentence. This can go on for as long as required to form a short story.

Challenge: Make the stories more interesting by shouting out a word that must be included in the next sentence every time the board moves player.

Once upon a time, in a land far, far away, there lived a hippopotamus. All the animals in the river knew that she was no ordinary hippopotamus...
